

OFFICES IN HANDS ON MONDAY MORNING

Who Go Out and Those Who Enter the Court House.

Administration Makes Complete Change.

FISCAL COURT IS MADE OVER.

McCracken county will pass into the control of the new county administration Monday morning, and the majority of the present county officials will become private citizens. All is ready for the change and there will be but little friction in the change. Nearly all the newly elected officers have taken the oath of office and are waiting patiently for the first Monday in January to take charge of their offices as prescribed by the Kentucky statutes.

Many new faces will be in the new administration, but all of the countenances are familiar to the people. For the reception of the new guests the court house has been repaired and repainted, and all made as neat as a palace for the choice of the people to enter upon their duties next week. Of course, there will be some delay in getting the work started, for there will be new officers, new deputies, and the greetings of friends and it is just as true of an administration as of a piece of machinery, that it takes some time to get the bearings smooth and prepare for steady work. However, all new officials have been hanging around getting into the hang of things, and the change will be made with little confusion or friction.

After serving two terms, County Judge R. T. Lightfoot will retire to his private practice of law. He says he will be glad to lay aside the judicial services in the administration, especially the improvement of the roads and bridges was his hobby. In a report issued this week the mileage and illustrations of the improvements are shown.

New County Judge.
With the incoming administration, Alben W. Barkley, now county attorney, will step in as county judge, and by his experience is well qualified for the position. As county attorney he has been thrown with the business of the county for four years. Mr. Barkley has been a resident of Paducah several years, starting in as a court reporter, and after being admitted to practice law was elected county attorney. He was nominated without opposition by the Democrats for county judge, and, although, in the recent election had the hottest fight, he was victor by a majority of 500.

The Schools.
County School Superintendent W. A. Middleton, who is filling out the unexpired term of S. J. Hinton, will devote his whole attention to the practice of law. He is a former school teacher. He will be succeeded by L. W. Fennor, who has been a school teacher for a number of years, and owing to his close connection with the county schools will begin his duties with little difficulty.

J. Wes Troutman will retire as county assessor and will devote his attention to the grocery business. Mr. Troutman has served one term and he was not eligible to re-election, and has made a faithful official. His successor will be George Allen, of the county, who has been deputy assessor for several years, and knows the duties of the office from experience.

County Clerk.
Eli G. Boone will retire as county clerk, after serving about ten months. He was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of S. J. Hinton. Mr. Boone has had experience in public offices in the city, and has performed his duty with credit. He has a large insurance agency, and will devote his whole attention to it. Miss Lizzie Edrington, who has been chief deputy county clerk, will retire, and will take a well earned rest. She has served in the office for eight years, and is familiar with every detail.

Col. Gus G. Singleton, known to everybody in the county, will assume charge of the county court clerk's office. He promises to greet everybody with a smile and handshake. It is impossible for Colonel Singleton to be any part of the county, and he is being recognized. He is a resident of Paducah for years, and much of the time a traveling salesman. His estate will be handled by Herman Katter.

Atlantic Prison Horror Grows as New Tortures and Brutality Are Brought to Light by the Inspection

One Girl Hung to Wall Thirty Minutes After Fainted in Convulsion—Negroes Are Whipped to Death.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 1.—Further stories of inhuman cruelty to prisoners convicted of misdemeanors were told to the council committee which is investigating the charges made against the management of the city prison or stockade. Major Madox was an interested listener at the morning session.

Henshel Ivy, a former guard at the stockade, who resigned because of conditions and who had kept a diary of things that happened while he was there, was a valuable witness. He swore that Mose Johnson, a negro, told Superintendent Vinin that he was too ill to work. Vinin ordered him whipped. After the whipping the negro collapsed, was sent to a hospital where he died a week later.

He saw the young white girl, Ruby Gaither, chained to the wall by her hands and feet. She fainted, and she did not know how long she was hanging there. After the whipping she was left there unconscious for 30 minutes. He held up her limp body while Vinin removed the shackles and said she went into convulsions and frothed at the mouth.

Fed From Filth.
The white women, he declared, were fed from scraps picked up from the floor of the men's mess hall. The floor is of dirt and witnesses swore that there was fifth a foot thick on it, the starch from which was unbearable.

Ivy said that there were a hundred hens kept at the prison and that the eggs were gathered each day by Commissioners of Public Works Collier, who took them away with him. A man said by the defense to be allowed to whip prisoners, was shown. Members of the grand jury and witnesses said it was not the one they saw, that the real one was studied with rivets. The officials admitted this and offered to produce the strap.

Officers Got Whisky.
Ivy, after a luncheon recess, swore that twelve quarts of whisky at a time were sent to the stockade, addressed to T. D. Shaw, a policeman, who was in the room in full uniform. It was distributed to the guards and employees. He swore further that a guard and five prisoners were put to work picking beans for the daughter of Jacob Petter, 57 Broad street, who was ill with fever.

HOUSEKEEPERS WANTED BY THREE

CHARITY CLUB HAS APPLICANTS
IN ITS EMPLOYMENT BUREAU.

Three women, who desire good homes, may procure them by applying to the Charity Club, 214 South Seventh street. Three applications have been received from men who desire competent housekeepers to look after the household and care for young children. No doubt, there will be plenty of women ready to accept the homes and perform the duties. An employment agency is conducted in connection with the club, and the service is rendered without cost. Many poor people are out of employment, and are willing to work, but have failed to find employment. Any firm or factory that desires employees may notify the Charity club, and the places will be filled.

Marguerite, the little daughter of Jacob Petter, 57 Broad street, is ill with fever.

CITY BEGINS NEW YEAR WITH MONEY IN THE TREASURY

Two Public Projects That Probably Will be Put Through.

Island Creek Bridge and Fire
Station.

THE TENTH STREET BOULEVARD

For the first time in years the city of Paducah began a new year today without a floating debt and with money in the bank.

After the allowance of all the outstanding obligations by the joint finance committee last night and the sinking fund appropriation, the city's balance was $14,524.64. Yesterday Treasurer Walters received $20,000, leaving approximately $35,000 in the city treasury. During Mayor Smith's administration the deficit of $44,000 has been wiped out. The policy of the general council, co-operating with the mayor, has benefited the city.

The finance committee last night allowed bills amounting to $27,825.68, which included the items of printing, wharf allowances, city scales, market house expenses, stenographer, clock repairs, etc., $445.34 and the license revenue, back tax commission, costs of suits, interest coupons, sinking fund apportionment, library and parks, $7,159.13, while the mayor's orders for supplies for the various departments, the general city expenses, the greater part of the costs for the city hall addition and some part of the fire station expenses amounted to $2,572.80, which, with an allowance of $8,012.25, brings the total of the sum allowed to $27,825.68.

Some of the extraordinary appropriations made during the year were: average hospital, $30,000; new boilers and stacks for the electric light plant, $4,000; two brick closets for the schools, $2,500; a sexton's home at Oak Grove cemetery, $1,000; hose for the fire department, $4,000; city hall addition, $10,000; floating debt, $11,024.47; sinking fund, $8,000.

Island Creek Bridge.
Two municipal projects, considered at the beginning of last year, probably will be pushed this year: they are the island creek bridge, and the west end fire station, both badly needed.

A substantial, permanent bridge, probably of concrete, will be erected over island creek from Broad street into Meyers street, Mechanicsburg. The present iron structure will then be placed over Cross creek at the west end of Broad street, and a road will be constructed to the Union station, so that people from Mechanicsburg and the south side may reach the Union station by going a few blocks, instead of coming down town a distance of more than a mile and back again. This will also give closer connection between the district back of the Illinois Central shops on the south side.

When the bridge is completed the Traction company is expected to extend its lines through Mechanicsburg. The company is now considering a proposal to bear part of the expense of the bridge.

The Fire Station.
A fire station is needed in the west end, and Chief Wood suggests a place in the vicinity of Fountain avenue and Broadway, for apparatus which may reach fire in that section quickly. The distance all the present companies would have to travel would give west end fire time to gain such headway, that a house might be practically ruined before the firemen could reach the scene. The company would be a small one and the expense of maintenance would be nominal in comparison with the benefit it will prove in one fire. Mayor Smith is pledged to this measure, as he is to the island creek bridge project.

Tenth Street Boulevard.
It is understood that some property owners on South Tenth street have approached some of the park commissioners about renewing the effort to make South Tenth street

New City Officials Enter Upon Their Duties This Morning; Chief Police Singery Assumes Command

CAPT. JOHN J. DORIAN,
The New Night Chief of Police.

The entry of the new year brought a general shift around the city this morning. Henry Singery, the new chief of police, took charge, succeeding James Collins.

Upstairs Robert Hicks became the license inspector, succeeding Ed Hubbard, who has been in office for the last year. New patrolmen went on duty today and the retiring officers discarded their uniforms and badges.

Yesterday afternoon, after closing the market house, John Clark surrendered his badge to Albert Senger, who became market master today. At the city light plant Mr. W. H. Force took charge, succeeding J. O. Keebler. Other officers elected by the general council went into office this morning. A. J. York, lineman for the city joined the fire department. Captain Charles McKinney assumes command of fire station No. 2.

Mr. W. H. Force, the new superintendent of the city lighting plant, announced his assistants this morning. They are: J. B. Friant, engineer; G. C. Wilkinson, fireman, and Joe Cook, lamp trimmer. Messrs. Friant and Wilkinson are reappointed, while Mr. Cook succeeds A. J. York, who became a member of the city fire department.

NEARLY HUNDRED RECRUITS HERE

SERGEANT BLAKE IS MAKING
OUT HIS ANNUAL REPORT FOR STATION.

Sergeant C. A. Blake, at the local recruiting station, is preparing his annual report of applicants during the past year. During 1909 481 men applied and out of this number 95 were accepted for service in the United States army. Four months out of the year, March, April, May and June, no recruits were taken in here in compliance with an order from the government. During that time only old soldiers were taken in. The local office is in charge of Sergeants Blake and Joseph Kresky, who have been keeping up a good record for excellent material they have received for the army.

KIDNAPERS DEMAND RANSOM FOR RETURN OF LITTLE LOUISVILLE GIRL.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 1.—Fred Kellner, father of the kidnapped girl, confirms the story that letters received appear to be genuine communications from the kidnapers. If the investigation shows they are genuine negotiations will begin. One letter from an Ohio town demands $5,000 ransom.

BILL TAFT SMILE MELTS AUSTERITY AT THE RECEPTION

Cold Diplomats Thawed Out
Under Influence of Its Genial Radiance.

Plain Common People Carried Away Its Warmth

THE NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION.

Washington, Jan. 1. (United Press).—The expansive Taft smile overflowed its usual boundaries today and embraced the world.

The occasion was the first annual New Year's reception of the new administration. The big broad Taft personality reached out and gathered to its kindly presence thousands—from the courtly members of the diplomatic corps to the plainest of the plain people.

It was "open house" at the presidential abode, with Citizen and Citizeness Taft as host and hostess.

Long before the white house doors were unlatched the crowds began to assemble in the president's front yard. It was a motley gathering that had come to wish "Big Bill" a happy New Year, and shake his hand in greeting. Young and old chatted in the line. Fur-lined overcoats rubbed elbows with garments that were shabby and thin. Venerable graybeards, young bloods, timid maids, and matrons of poise huddled together in a heterogeneous American multitude.

While the great American people were aligning themselves in a shabby column that filled the yard, the extended for blocks up Pennsylvania avenue, their high priced servant was doing his duty as the head of a great world power, greeting the representatives of the other world powers with words of cordiality and regard.

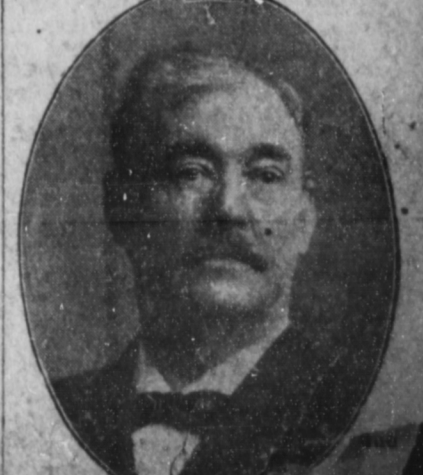

As the great hall clock in the white house boomed out eleven and four buglers stepped from the band and sounded the presidential fanfare, the Executive and Mrs. Taft left the family apartments on the second floor and started down the great main staircase. With the Vice-President and Mrs. Sherman and the cabinet members and their wives, they took up their position at the southern end of the blue room. The ladies stepped to the right and formed a part of the receiving line. Then began the brilliant, formal reception of the diplomatic corps, the "elite" of official life.

Only one thing that has characterized white house New Year's receptions in the past was lacking. That was the gathering of specially invited guests who in former administrations crowded the blue room. The sole permanent occupants of the room today were President Taft and his official family. Mrs. Taft's health has forced the curtailment of social festivities at the white house, and it was thought best to conserve her strength on this occasion by omitting the personal guests.

A gorgeous procession of diplomats, clad in brilliant panoply of the court costumes of their various nations, was the spectacle of the occasion. Led by the Italian ambassador, Baron Mayor des Planches, the dean of his length of service here in Washington, and followed by the entire body of accredited foreign representatives, ambassadors first, then ministers, and both arranged according to length of service—the newest ambassadors and ministers last in the procession of their rank—they entered from the south door of the mansion, and with great formality made their way to the host and hostess. With each ambassador went the members of his suite and their wives.

At the rear of the ambassadorial

BACK PAY FOR Kentucky Volunteers

Governor Willson desires to locate the ex-soldiers of the Spanish-American war, or in the event of their death, their heirs, whose names are shown in the following list, that they may file claims for the back pay due the soldiers for service in the Kentucky State Guard prior to their muster into the United States service in 1898.

This money has been in the hands of the Governor for a number of years and the matter has been advertised a number of times in various ways, but there remain the names of about five hundred men on the pay rolls who have not been paid.

HOBSON'S SHIRT BECOMING FAMOUS

BRILLIANT NECKTIE IS FLEETING TO BREEZE.

Like Battle Flag It Flants defiance to All the Japs in Japan.

OUR NEW FILIPINO DELEGATE.

Washington, Jan. 1. — (United Press.) — Representative Hobson's necktie is becoming famous. It is being used to breeze like a battle flag, whenever the Alabama statesman rises to make a speech, and it is kept waving as long as the oratorical torrent continues. A deaf man might know that Hobson was talking—probably about war with Japan—by the sound of his necktie.

As soon as the hero of the Merrimac rises from his chair to address the house, he unbuttons his vest, tucks the two sides of the garment out of sight under his coat, and releases the necktie. The cravat, as though conscious of the duty it has to perform, seems to become imbued with life and projects itself at an angle of forty-five degrees from the Hobsonian shirt bosom, and from that moment keeps pace with the speech.

"War is inevitable," shouts Hobson. The tie uplifts itself as though it were a saber to be used to impale the Japs.

"Shaf we thus remain defenseless at their mercy?" cries the Alabama member. The tie falls to his bosom despairing.

"But there is yet hope; fortifications can be built," vociferates the congressman. The necktie feels the vigor of that hopeful heart two inches beneath its silken front, and perks up a little. In another moment it is again waving like a banner in battle, is again uplifted in defiance, is again discomfited upon the great man's breast.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Hobson captures the tie, smooths it down, and carefully buttons his vest over its folds.

His English.

With the assistance of a translator and native typesetters, the Hon. Jablo Ocampo de Leon, former resident commissioner of the Philippine islands in the United States, has succeeded in pulling off one of the most flowery orations that ever came out of the east.

The speech was delivered at a "Popular Banquet" in honor of Ocampo on his return from the United States by members of the various political parties at Manila. Several hundred copies of the speech have just arrived in Washington, addressed to official friends and acquaintances of the Philippine statesman.

The oration was delivered by Ocampo in his native language, was then translated into English, and printed by Filipino workmen who understood no English. This sounds impossible, but as a matter of fact, practically all the typesetting in English, done in the Philippines, is the work of natives who know no English.

This is one of the literary gems with which the Hon. Pablo is credited in the translation which has reached America.

"In the improbable case of having been successful in my mission in America, I would say, perhaps, that this outbreak of enthusiasm, a magnificent manifestation of esteem, is something like a corollary of a duty fully fulfilled. But since I cannot pride myself of anything that I can claim I have done in favor of the country, and reading between the lines, I see in this great conjunction of sympathies which, without any false modesty on my part, contrasts with the humbleness of my personality, a sincere expression of welcome, generously extended to me by a brilliant group of notable compatriots. Therefore, unable to frame an adequate form of expressing myself, I beg of you to accept, concisely, without the gracefulness of a fine speech, the testimony of my most profound thankfulness, for the distinguished honor you bestow upon me an honor which, in no way, I do deserve."

The Hon. Pablo is an enthusiastic on the subject of ultimate Philippine independence, and that was the theme of his speech. His conclusion—via the translator—was as follows:

"This belief moves me to say that, despite the fact that I have traveled already through the boundaries of the ocean of life, and taking advantage of this solemn occasion, without ambiguities and round-about phrases, I entertain a sincere and ardent hope of yet being a witness of the redemption of the Philippine islands before my wife and children start upon my motionless forehead the sweet and last oculation of peace."

It is a dangerous thing to take a cough medicine containing opiates that merely stifle your cough instead of curing it. Foley's Honey and Tar loosens and cures the cough and expels the poisonous germs, thus restoring the bronchial and nasal passages.

A Promise To Pay

Would you accept a stranger's note? No. Then why accept from a stranger any other promise to pay? A fire insurance policy is such a promise. Ought you to accept it without knowing all about the company? Your usual business confidence is based on knowledge. Why make an exception in that part of your business which deals with insurance? A name is worth nothing on any kind of a promise to pay unless it is backed by character and resources.

We favor insurance knowledge, particularly about our companies. Their promises to pay have never gone to protest. Their obligations to its policy holders are backed with such a good reputation and such ample financial resources that the more you know about them the more you will want protection by their policies.

ICE JAM

Baron Japanese ambassador, who arrived in Washington a little more than a week ago.

Two of the new ambassadors—Hussein Kiazim Bey, of Turkey, and Senor de la Barra, of Mexico—were absent. They were represented by the charges d'affaires of their respective embassies.

Ministers. The ministerial parade was led by the representative from Costa Rica, Senor Calvo. Chang Yin Tang, the new Chinese minister, was officially received only about a week ago, and he was the last of the diplomats, but the brilliant Oriental appearance of his train more than made up for the delay in position. The other new diplomats of ministerial rank attending their first New Year's reception were: Mr. Sannon, from Haiti; General Velez, from Cuba; Senor Rejos, from Venezuela; Mr. Coronillas, from Greece; the Marquis of Villalobar, from Spain; Senor Joubert, from the Dominican Republic, and Count de Buisseret, from Belgium—the latter with a bow of crepe instead of a gold sword knot, the official badge of mourning for his late sovereign, King Leopold.

When the gallily appraised diplomats had filed past the receiving line, and had been cordially greeted, the venerable Chief Justice Fuller led the associate justices of the supreme court and other members of the judiciary. Then came former cabinet members, United States ambassadors and ministers, and members of congress. There were but few of the latter, the holiday season having sent most of them to their homes.

Military Officers. The buglers sounded another call, and representatives of the army and navy filed into the room. Decked out in all the glory of full dress uniforms, the military and naval officers made a brilliant showing. They were the last of the uniformed visitors. The assemblage took on a more subdued appearance as they departed.

They were immediately followed by the civilian officials of the government and representatives of various organizations, as follows:

Regents and secretary of the Smithsonian institute, civil service commission, interstate commerce commission, isthmian canal commission, commissioners of the District of Columbia, assistant secretaries of the departments, the solicitor general, assistant attorneys general, assistant postmasters general, treasurer of the United States, librarian of congress, public printer, heads of bureaus, president of the Columbia institute, Society of the Cincinnati and a score of other minor organizations.

The People Enter. Then there was a pause. Mrs. Taft and the ladies of the cabinet departed for the refreshments, which the hostess serves on New Year's day to the wives of the cabinet members. The president extended his smile a little more, the cabinet members braced themselves and the common people were given a chance.

There was no gorgeous display to greet the throng that came through. There was only that "jolly good fellow" smile and the man behind it down at the south end of the blue room. There was no Rooseveltian burly about the process. Everyone had time to say "Happy New Year, Mr. President," and to receive a calm, dignified handshake and a word of greeting in return.

The Marine band, which up to now had been filling the white house with the impressive strains of classical music, broke into "Hail, the Conquering Hero Comes." But there was not speed enough in that and soon they were enlivening the occasion with ragtime. From one jingling air to another the band skipped, making the line move faster to keep up with the music. It moved fast right up to the point where "Big Bill" was passing out cheery greetings, but there it lingered, reluctantly.

There were attendants on hand, however, to keep the guests moving, and many a caller was sharply nudged—a hint that he had overstayed his time and had better be on his way. A tap on the shoulder or an eloquent gesture forced the hesitating to step along. Several gentlemen looking chaps stood just down the line of callers ahead of the president keeping a keen-eyed watch on each man or woman that passed. They made sure that none carried a package—packages are looked on with suspicion in the hands of presidential callers—and they saw to it that no one approached the president with a hand behind his back or in his pocket.

But for everybody—from the lean of the diplomatic corps to the plainest citizen in line—the foremost feature of the occasion, the distinguishing mark of the first Taft New Year's day reception was that broad, genial Taft smile. It seemed to imbue the entire gathering with a spirit of good fellowship. Coldly formal diplomats thawed out and became amiable under its influence. It made everyone smile in return. Timid citizens who entered the white house diffidently were at their ease as soon as the Taft smile appeared on the horizon.

Gorgeously arrayed diplomats came and went, sombre judges passed, smart army officers strode by, plain American citizens hurried through, but solid and stationary, on constant duty, expressing greeting and farewell until the last of the common people had filed out, was the "jolly good fellow" Taft smile.

Thely emphasized in the decorations of the house. The color motif was red and white. Red Christmas bells and festoons of red and white paper were attractively used about the rooms.

Gauge at 7 a. m. read 4.6 feet, a fall of four tenths of a foot during 24 hours. Weather cloudy and warm and business fair.

River Bippings.

On account of today being New Year's day the Kentucky will not depart on her regular trip to River-ton, Ala. She is undergoing a few light repairs that have not been completed and will lie over here until January 8 before making her trip to the Tennessee.

Ice having materially disappeared from the river here the Ohio left last night for Smithland and returned here at 11 o'clock this morning. She is unable to get to Golconda on account of ice.

The George Cowling will make her two regular trips today. She arrived from Metropolis at 9 o'clock this morning and departed for a return trip at 11 o'clock. She is due back again this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A change for the better was noted in the condition of the river this morning. There was hardly any ice in the stream except for large quantities near the Illinois side. The Dick Fowler will resume her Cairo Monday morning.

From Waterloo, Ala., the Clyde is due here Monday afternoon. She makes a return trip next Wednesday.

Business at the wharves is about as quiet as it could be as few boats are running. The J. B. Richardson is at Nashville awaiting another rise in the river.

The Electra was not aground here yesterday as reported and is as safe and sound as she ever was.

RAILROAD NOTES

New Year's day was observed at the Illinois Central shops by a general closing of all departments except the round house, where a force of sufficient size was worked to get out engines necessary for the traffic. Monday the shops will open on the eight-hour day schedule.

James Edward Hofflich, Jr., the little son of General Foreman James Hofflich, is recovering from an illness with malarial fever. The little fellow has been very sick, but is improving now.

Clint Gibbs, formerly round house clerk, is in the city visiting old friends. At present he is assistant postmaster at Dresden, Tenn.

MR. HARBOUR BURNS HIS HANDS IN CURING THEM.

While using liniment to ease rheumatism in his hands, Mr. E. B. Harbour, the merchant, had a narrow escape from serious burns. He was getting ready to retire last night at his residence above his department store, and as he has been suffering with rheumatic pains put liniment on his hands. He wore gloves and a short time later struck a match instantly the liniment flared up and before he could get off the gloves the skin on both hands was burned. For two hours he soaked his hands in alcohol, and today suffered little pain. A combustible ingredient in the liniment caused the gloves to catch fire.

Sheriff Ogilvie and his deputies have made all preparations for the opening of court, and on Monday morning Sheriff-elect George Houser and his deputies will take charge of the court as well as the county.

New Law Closes Liquor Makers.

Prominent whisky manufacturers of the state admit that the new law will be tested in the courts.

ICE JAM DAMAGES THE BIG BRIDGE

FALSE STRUCTURE OF MCKINLEY BRIDGE, ST. LOUIS.

Scores Knocked Into River Full of Ice—Forty Picked Up—Twenty-nine Cross Ice.

NOT KNOWN IF ANY PERISHED

St. Louis, Jan. 1.—Three hundred feet of the false structure of the McKinley bridge, under construction across the Mississippi river, was knocked out by an ice jam at 5 o'clock yesterday evening. Sixty-nine men were thrown into the river, and some may have been drowned.

One hundred and fifty men were at work on the structure when the jam began to move. About 80 heard the warning snap of timbers in time to escape the steel work. Sixty-nine others went down in the twisted mass of timbers. Three hoisting engines and a traveler also went down, imperiling the struggling men below.

Capt. John Short, in charge of a tug and two barges frozen in, picked up 40 of the men and got them ashore after two hours' battle with the ice, which was jammed six feet high in many places.

Several times the barges threatened to crush the tug and the vessel repeatedly nearly turned turtle when forced upon the ice by the pressure behind it.

The 29 men unable to reach the tug are believed to have reached the shore across the floating ice, but the company officials said they did not know whether any lives were lost, and would not know until tomorrow. The property loss is estimated at $250,000.

The completion of the bridge, which is being built by the Illinois Traction system, will be delayed several months.

Short Was Hero.
But for Short's heroism it is believed that many lives would have been lost. Short's little tug was caught twice between the barges and threatened with destruction and each time he fought back the men and prevented them risking their lives on the floes. Twice his rudder was jammed. The second time he could not release it and the boat drifted down stream.

Finally rescue parties with ropes reached him from the shore after a two hours' battle and the men were landed.

Eleven of the men clambered upon a pile driver barge, which drifted three miles before the men were rescued.

One of the men said: "Our first warning was a shout from above, immediately the piers snapped like matches and we were thrown in every direction upon the ice and into the water."

"The ice broke up rapidly. Our only hope seemed to be getting to the tug, which was frozen in, 200 feet from where we were working. Most of us reached it I guess, but three engines and travelers above us tottered then fell, and none missed us by more than a hundred feet."

"The tug was helplessly caught. We begged Captain Short to allow us to take to the floes. He refused and for more than two hours we faced death in battling six foot gorges."

"After we had drifted a mile we struck some six inch ice, and Short started to plow through. Several times the barges behind us drove the tug half way out of the water on the ice. We all owe our lives to Short."

Shake off the grip of your old enemy, Nasal Catarrh, by using Ely's Cream Balm. Then will all the swelling and soreness be driven out of the tender, inflamed membranes. The fits of sneezing will cease and the discharge, as offensive to others as to yourself, will be stopped when the causes that produce it are removed. Cleanliness, comfort and renewed health by the use of Cream. Sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Attractive Christmas Party.
Miss Edna Grace Clark was the hostess to 30 of her young friends at a prettily planned Christmas party on Friday afternoon from 2 until 4:30 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Clark, 321 South Fourth street.

The Christmas idea was effectively emphasized in the decorations of the house. The color motif was red and white. Red Christmas bells and festoons of red and white paper were attractively used about the rooms.

The table in the dining room had for the centerpiece a small Christmas tree decorated with bells. The ice cream was red and white bricks and the cakes were iced in red and white. Red and white mints further carried out the pretty color scheme. The souvenirs were Christmas cakes tied with big red bows.

An enjoyable feature of the afternoon's pleasure was a contest of pinning the tassels on Santa Claus' cap while blindfolded. The successful contestants were Jennie Rosina Rasch, Mary Yelser, Lydia Welle, Elwyn Berry, Bessie Kerwin, Hanson Loving, Jimmie Wilhelm, Stanley Pether, David Lewis, John Webb, William Barnett, Richard Orme, Will I. ## Pleasant Afternoon Party.

Miss Courtie Furey entertained her music pupils and a few of their friends most pleasantly on Wednesday afternoon at her home, 806 Broadway. Several games were enjoyably featured and a hat-making contest was especially clever. Each guest was given two sheets of tissue paper in contrasting shades and told to make a hat. Quite a number of charming creations were evolved.

Miss Margaret Moss won the first honors. A color scheme of pink was attractively carried out in the table decorations and in the delicious ices, cakes and mints served. Each guest was presented with a pink Christmas stocking filled with pink candy as a favor of the afternoon. Those present were: Misses India Lang, Pearl McKee, of St. Louis; Mollie Gardner, Pauline Grassham, Miriam Lewis, Charlotte Wheeler, Dorothy Brainerd, Edna Clark, Elizabeth Reddick, Beatrice Lassiter, Ruth Stevenson, Louisa Morris, Hester Bozeman, Mamie Stevens, Hattie Brown, Amanda Wilhelm, Dorothy Kidd, Margaret Moss, Alice Moss, Marie Riker.

COMMISSIONER

SOUNDS GOOD TO POPULAR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

Magistrate C. W. Emery Would Accept the State Appointment.

Magistrate C. W. Emery has gone to Frankfort to attend the session of the legislature. He is casting eyes on the job of state road commissioner, which has not been created yet, but possibly will be by the solons. McCracken county has two candidates since E. Perl Johnson is running.

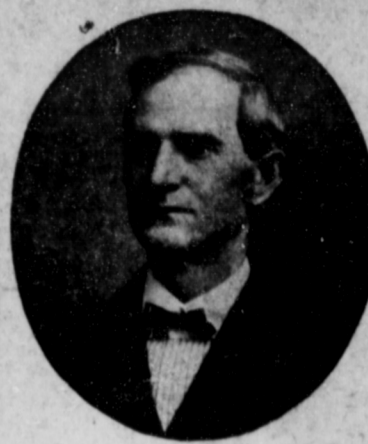

In the vicinity of Concepcion and Taleahuano, Chile, there are more than eighty million cubic meters of soft coal of fair quality within an area of eighty thousand square meters, or about 30.7 square miles. The vein is 3.5 meters, or about 11.5 feet thick.

BASKETBALL

FIRST GAME WILL BE PLAYED TUESDAY NIGHT.

D. A. D.'s Will Meet Some Other Team in the Eagles' Gym.

The first basketball game in Paducah for this season will be played next Tuesday night when the D. A. D. team will meet another five, which has not been selected. The game will be for practice only, and will not count in the percentage. The first league game will be played January 7, and four teams will play on the night that a game is scheduled as was the custom last year. The schedule is being prepared now and will be announced shortly. The players as well as the league officials have been waiting for the holidays to end before opening the season, which is promised another successful season.

GEORGE HOUSER
Sheriff-Elect of McCracken County.

Heed himself, as he was re-elected at the last election. Mr. Eaker has made a popular official as was attested by his majority.

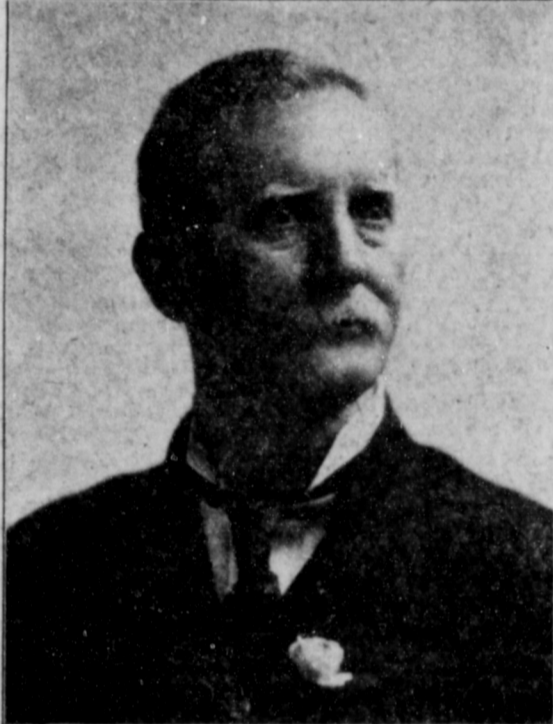

Everett Wren will continue as county surveyor. He won the Democratic nomination without opposition. He is a resident of Woodville, but his work carries him all over the county.

Sanders Clay will step into the office of county attorney, the youngest of the county officials. For several years he has been a resident of Paducah, having come from Henderson. He is a member of the firm of Clay & Clay. He is a young and progressive, and has had experience in handling cases.

The Fiscal Court.

It is in the fiscal court that the greatest change will be noticed, as C. W. Emery, of the Third district, and J. J. Bleich, of the Second district, will be the only members in the new make-up; that are members of the present court. The retiring members are: Sanders Brooks, W. A. H. Dunaway, C. I. Knott, F. F. Gholson, John Burnett and G. R. Broadfoot. The new members of fiscal court will be: J. T. Householder, U. S. Walston, Baxter Kuykendall, G. M. Spitzer and Charles Ross. Green Bennett, the Democratic nominee from the Seventh district, probably will take part in the organization. On a technicality he was awarded the certificate of election over J. B. Walston, the successful candidate, who will wait for a decision of the court, before assuming his office.

All the appointive officers will hold on until their election by the fiscal court, or they receive appointments by the county judge. The officers elected by the fiscal court are: County physician, Dr. L. E. Young; keeper of county almshouse, W. A. Thompson; county road supervisor, J. R. Thompson; county treasurer, J. C. Utterback. The officers appointed by the county judge are: Coal oil inspector, Waddie Lang; probation officer, Jack Nelson, and public administrator, Felix G. Rudolph.

GENIAL GUS SINGLETON,
Who Becomes the County Court Clerk.

COUNTY OFFICES
IN NEW HANDS

John, but the remainder of the staff Colonel Singleton has not divulged.

The Circuit Court.
Monday morning Circuit Judge William Reed will begin another term of six years, as judge of the McCracken circuit. Since taking his seat on the bench business in circuit court has moved with dispatch, and Judge Reed is noted over the state for the quickness with which he disposes of business. It is expected Cecil Reed will be reappointed master commissioner.

No change will be made in the office of circuit clerk as Circuit Clerk Joe A. Miller has qualified for his second term, which will begin Monday for six years. He is another who is known all over the county, as he served three terms as county jailer before winning his election as circuit clerk. His present deputies, Mr. Will C. Kidd and Miss R. B. Hay will be retained.

The Jail.
After four years' service County Jailer James W. Eaker will hand over the keys of the county bastille to his successor Monday morning. The jail has been prepared for the new administration, and no confusion is expected from the change.

The new jailer will be Henry Houser, who gained the Democratic nomination after a hard fight. Mr.

SANDERS E. CLAY,
New County Attorney, who soon will wed.

Houser is from the county, and, as he has been in the political arena before, he is well known. This is his first public office, but he promises to be successful. Former Patrolman Charles B. Whittemore will be his chief deputy, and he has been at the jail for several days catching onto the details of the office.

The Sheriff.
Sheriff John W. Ogilvie figuratively will turn over the reins of the county next Monday, although it will be several weeks before he is entirely free from the cares of public office. He will collect the delinquent taxes, and it will be some time before his books can be closed. Deputy Sheriff Gus Rogers has accepted a position as guard at the Eddyville penitentiary with the assurance that he will be promoted to the position of deputy warden in a few months. Deputies Hume Ogilvie and Clark Fortson will return to the farm.

George Houser will become the chief executive of the county. Mr. Houser is familiar with the office of sheriff, as during the term of Lee D. Potter he was a deputy. He has resided at Florence station, and is well known over the county. G. E. Rouse will be his deputy in charge of the office, while former Patrolman Charles Clark will have charge of the courts. Sam Brookshire and H. Hill will have charge of the work in the county.
